Introduction

Indonesian Trend Forecasting (ITF) is a research group whose membership is formed from a collection of fashion designers and other practitioner experts who have the goal of assisting the government in advancing the development of the creative economy in the fashion sector in Indonesia (Santika, et al. 2021). ITF explores creative ideas from industry players in the fields of fashion, textiles, interiors, and products with the aim of advancing Indonesia's creative industry motivated by research and trends for artisans and more in the fashion sector in exploring visuals and new ideas for market trends. With the hope of the outcome being more of innovative products that continue to sell well in the market and the wheels of the economy will spin so that the surrounding community will also prosper (Aninda and Setyawan 2022).

Indonesian Fashion Trend launches a theme for Trend Forecasting every year. In 2021, Indonesia Trend Forecasting launched a Fashion Trend 2021/2022 book, "The New Beginning", a direction or trend foothold for the fashion and textile sector. "The New Beginning" has the meaning of a life or a new beginning. This theme was made by reflecting lives of people that affected by the pandemic so that the theme displayed is a depiction of hope in entering a new era. There are four subthemes in "The New Beginning" which consist of; Essentiality, Spirituality, Exploitation, and Exploration.

Spirituality is a theme that rests on awareness in protecting nature and culture. The theme is inspired by the classic side with earthy colors, the use of natural materials and the usage of many details and characteristics such as fringe, unfinished edge, pleats drapery and macramé (Indonesia Trend Forecasting, 2021). The theme is such an opportunity for fashion students and designers from all over the region, to creates fashion artwork such as fashion design collection in the form of a participation in preserving local wisdom but also based on trends. According to Amos et al. (2017), Fashion design can potentially attract the attention of its viewers which is made through a variety of inspirational media in a neat and creative way. Creating fashion arts but applying the theme that exists in trend forecasting especially Spirituality is a challenge that can support the birth of many creative ideas of students and fashion designers.

Fashion designing is an artwork that is arranged by paying attention to lines, shapes, colors, sizes and textures so that they become one in order to produce a beautiful and attractive clothing visual (Yuliati & Asri, 2015). Fashion illustration is the earliest work in the steps of fashion designing before entering other steps. The work in its creation also tends to be easier and appealing. The fashion design illustration itself is a fashion design that is visualized in various ways. In making fashion design illustrations, there are several techniques such as manual, digital, and combination techniques where the differences can be seen from the tools and materials used in the manufacturing process (Diantari & Kadek, 2022). Before creating fashion works, mainly designers need to get some source of idea. According to Rizkiya, et al. (2023) A source of ideas is something that functions to support the creative and planning stages of a design. And in this case, Spirituality theme can be used as source of idea.

In woman fashion there is such wide range of occasion. From a formal, casual into certain event occasion. Especially, in event occasion the design can be so diverse. According to Marniati (2012:13) Party clothes generally have certain characteristics that distinguish them from everyday clothes. Party clothes themselves are clothes worn to attend important activities and each can be distinguished based on the time attending such as in morning, afternoon and night with their own characteristics and made with special sewing technique (Rizqi & Maeliah, 2020). Due to its diversity and special characteristics, party occasion clothing can be seen as an opportunity to create a special and authentic fashion design. In creating a party occasion fashion design, pouring creative ideas is indispensable to create a fashion design. Ideas can be drawn from various things with examples such as the eras of fashion, trends, events that have occurred and the forms in the surrounding nature (Agustini et al, 2018).

In creating a work or collection of works, it must be based on creation method which consist creation steps. The creation of artworks has various theories, techniques and method in the process of creating artworks. For an example, a practice-led research method of craft arts which consists of 4 stages of creation. Namely, Pre-Design, Design, Embodiment and Presentation of the work (Hendriyana, 2021). Practice-led research method is one of the many methods that can be applied by researchers and designers in the process of creating artworks in fashion. Based on the description above, the researcher had the opportunity to create an illustration of an evening party dress design illustration entitled "De Valeur" using the practice-led method. The purpose of this creation is to describe the process and results of the creation of the "De Valeur" design illustration.
Research Method

This research was used by the researcher to find out the process of creating a monumental work of party fashion design illustration that applies fashion trend forecasting with the theme of fashion trend forecast spirituality. The creation of the evening dress design illustration with the title “De Valeur” uses the method of Practice-led research method of craft arts. Which the method consists of 4 stages, including: (a) Pre-Design; (b) Design ; (c) Embodiment; and (d) Presentation (Hendriyana, 2021).

Pre-design is the stage where the researcher explores the source of relevant ideas or issues in the field. At this stage, the researcher collecting some ideas and pour them into one media such as plan board or moodboard. Design is the stage of visualizing the source of idea. By realizing these visual ideas, a prototype or alternative designs is created with aspects of consideration of values, functions and meanings. The Embodiment stage is the continuation of visualization and perfecting the design to adjust its meaning, value and function based on ideas that have been prepared. The presentation stage is the stage where the artwork is published.

Results and Discussion

In the pre-design stage, the researcher explores the source of ideas or relevant issues in the field. At this stage, the researcher develops his imagination and ideas by rationalizing with various references and similar works. Thus, at this stage it produces moodboards and basic design based on trend forecasting theme Spirituality. The moodboard being used as source of ideas to create evening party dress fashion designs. Moodboards are visual media used to collect and display inspiration, ideas, and concepts in fashion design or other designs. (Tanaya, et al. 2022).
The moodboard above was a moodboard for “De Valeur” source of idea. It consisting evening dress silhouette, depiction Spirituality characteristics such as earthy tone color, pleats detail, drapery, unfinished edge, fringe and usage of traditional or cultural motifs referencing from Indonesian woven fabrics. And picture below was two basic evening party dress design that is having L and I line silhouette.

Furthermore, at this stage of design, the researcher made 5 alternative design illustrations developed from the initial basic design by applying elements on the moodboard which consisting sources of ideas, and characteristics on the Spirituality theme. designing is the stage where the researcher creating and develop the fashion design that based on the main reference (Afidah & Russanti, 2022). Here are the results of 5 illustrations of “De Valeur” alternative designs that have been designed using the spirituality themed moodboard as the reference.
Alternative design is assessed by 2 experts in fashion design to select the main design that will get continued as a complete and finished illustration. The alternative designs judged based on some aspects in fashion. Apart from the creativity aspect, it is explained in Arifiana et al, (2018) there is also 3 important aspects in clothing, including: (a) functional; (b) expression; and (c) aesthetics. The main design being selected based on the accumulation of the largest points using scoring instruments in which there are functional, creative and aesthetic aspects to be valued each design.
